PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY EVENING AT TWO DOLLARS PER ANNUM.

A NAIVE CONFESSION.—A young lady this "Kissmas" somewhat surprised her partner by expressing a decided aversion to moustaches. On being pressed to give her reason for it, she at first fended off the question by declaring that a lady needed no reason for disliking things. On being further questioned, she glanced slyly at the moustache, and then darting an arch look at her partner's anxious face, on which the most luxuriant of moustaches had been cultivated, she replied, with charming naïveté, "Well, I don't mind telling you. It is because they, oh, so tickle one!"

How to staunch blood.—Take the fine dust of terra, or the scrapings of the inside of tanned leather, and bind it close upon the wound, and blood will soon cease to flow. These articles are at all times accessible and easy to be obtained. After the blood has ceased to flow, laudanum may be advantageously applied to the wound.—Due regard to these instructions will save agitation of mind and running for the surgeon, who would probably make no better prescription if present.—Lancet.

25 SUBSCRIBERS!—Now, who will take me up on this liberal proposition? Makes no difference who "goes in," for we will do as well by all who will procure us that number of subscribers. Of course the subscribers must pay in advance.—

Ladies, go to work—all of you!—We have got a library of over 200 books, most of which are the very best of standard works, and all of which we will dispose of as above stated. Nor are these books soiled—most of them being new.

To the person who will get us fifteen advance-paying subscribers, we will give a copy of Moore's Political Works complete—worth $4. Also, Dr. Livingston's Explorations in Africa—worth $2.50. Also a splendid engraving entitled "The Village Blacksmith," worth $5. Also an extra copy of the Journal one year, worth $2—in all making

Thirteen Dollars and Fifty Cents for Fifteen Subscribers.

We will give for twelve subscribers, a history of the Mutiny in India, worth $3. Also, any three dollar Magazine for one year. Also, a copy of the Great South, a large book worth $3.75, making

Nine Dollars and Seventy-five cents for Twelve Subscribers.

Let us hear from you soon. These propositions are only intended to aid our subscribers in doubling our list for next year, and are so liberal that many will certainly avail themselves of the chance to make something. Should other works than those we have mentioned be preferred we will try and supply them.

MARBLE MONUMENTS.—
MICHAEL BAKER.
On High Street, below the Doctor's office,
Winchester, Tenn.

An exchange paper says the girls are so hard up for husbands, in some parts of Pennsylvania, that they sometimes take up with printers and lawyers.

"There's the point," as the tailor said when the needle went into his finger.

NOTICE.—A full supply of fresh groceries, wines and liquors constantly kept at our stand north side of the public square, and sold only by the quantity and not under the tipping act. Come and see for yourselves that we do not keep a drinking house.
